

The Purpose of Man

- Several million years ago Man was created from upgrading a certain aquatic ape in the Vega System.
- The idea was to generate an upright well-proportioned sentient light being and further, experiment with his/her capability as to find his resilience and survivorship to live in an environment of duality.
- The duality condition refers to a state in which both good and evil exist together.
- The purpose of the experiment was to see if Man can survive evil by eradicating the existence of negative tendencies in his thoughts, beliefs, and actions totally.
- This way, there would not be any need for duality. Duality would be totally eliminated and Man as well as other sentient beings would live eternally and happily under a monoistic reality in which dualism has no part; there is only light, good, happiness, security, etc.
- Although such an existence would seem idealistic and utopic in nature, it has the distinct disadvantage of not offering much experience for Mankind to develop and expand his range of emotional, psychological, and intellectual capabilities.
- On the other hand, the result of such experimentation might suggest that both negative and positive energies could feasibly live together offering the condition of duality in which the energies will become totally balanced in the sentient being thus leading to harmony and synchronization.
- It is clear to us that negative energies would resort to violence, expansionism, and possibly to installation of one or more Monarchs as rulers.
- It is further envisioned that such a regime would ultimately give rise to slavery in which one or more species or races will eventually be subjected to bondage due to being or looking 'different' than others.

- These concepts are clear to us because we have lived under the reality of duality as well as the tyranny of bondage for many thousand years.
- In this regard, we are the experts on the subject and the questions are now answered for us.
- The negative energies of aggression and violence are classified under ‘male energies,’ and in this respect the Reptilians are known to primarily possess such genes, and the history during the last three cycles of such experimentation has clearly indicated Reptilian’s sense of adversity, expansionism, ego-ridden power, without the slightest concern, compassion or even attention for other specie’s comfort, sovereignty, or right of existence.
- Their primary concern is to dictate, intimidate, subjugate, enslave, rule, and ultimately plunder, and rape any specie’s society in order to solely accumulate, self- indulge, pander and pamper themselves.
- It is not surprising that the past experiments ended up with the Reptilians massacre and drive almost all the sentient entities involved by resorting to not only violence and debauchery; but with utter tricks, lies, game-playing, and own agenda-fulfilling.
- As a result, some Lyrians eventually found themselves coming to Earth as their planet was destroyed and settled on Earth under the identity of ‘Lemurians.’
- Same happened later, when the Draconians drove Serians and fellow-humans to vagrancy with some finally settling on Earth which inaugurated the Atlantian race on Earth.
- We are the by-product of these civilizations with grossly deteriorated consciousness and natural frequency of vibrations, and now we still reside on Earth with low energies of the third or fourth dimensions.
- We are to be ascended soon, once with raise our energies to higher frequencies and the level pre-requisite for entry to the 5th dimension again.
- The point of the matter is that Earth was never intended to be a place of habitat for us or some other species.
- Mother Earth is relatively a young, small planet known as the beautiful blue planet,’ designed to be a university campus for learning the lessons of existence under duality condition.
- Only top, elite, students of life initially applied and some were consequently selected to come down on this beautiful planet and attend school.

- The curriculum of 'life in bondage' was not initially intended to be a part of the program,
- Annunaki Reptilians, experts in the field of genetics, who were initially invited by Atlanteans to come to Earth and spend some time with them for grasping their knowledge finally sabotaged and demoted our genome from a complex 12 strand to a simple 2-strand DNA system.
- Certain Atlantean's motivation for playing with genetics was to create a sub-species of 'docile' humans who they could subjugate and rule.
- For this reason, they held a large number of their own people in certain labs in order to diminish or deteriorate their genetic make-up.
- After the civil war with Lemuria, Rama, the colonies, when Atlantis was destroyed the remnant humans were taken by the Annunaki.
- The temptations of playing Gods and sovereign monarchs and wanting to subjugate these remaining Atlanteans to bondage were too great for them.
- Initially, they had executed a contract with the Heaven to try to 'Watch over' the Earth humans because of the uniqueness of Terrans, having the most complex of genetics of all sentient beings.
- Then they breeched their agreement and decided to exploit and rule us.
- For this reason they were cast out of Light and Heaven and became the Nephilims.
- We are not at home. We still live on campus. The campus has deteriorated to a point of demise due to exploitations of our captors.
- It is now time to cast our captors and slave drivers aside and go home.
- The Angelics, deities, and our brothers and sisters are here to help us.
- The heaven has dispatched its 'peace core' [the Ashtar Command] to assist us and to bring us home.
- It is ordered, it is ordained and it is decreed, and it is final.
- The Ashtar Command is watching!
