

The Several Stages of Awakening and the Diversity of Souls Reacting to it

Mohsen Paul Sarfarazi, Ph.D.

March 10, 2012

- What is exactly wrong with our society?
- Why are people so unhappy?
- Why is there so much skepticism and distrust among people?
- The financial system has crumbled.
- It is impossible to trust any politician.
- No one cares about professionalism and work pride.
- There is no longer any morale left.
- The family structure is totally collapsing.
- There are more divorced individuals than married persons.
- Families consist of children from variety of parents.
- There is no interest in resolving misunderstandings.
- Simple misapprehensions soon turn into conflicts.
- Discussions soon turn into heated arguments.
- Simple quarrels soon give rise to skirmishes.
- There is no longer any patience, any perseverance.
- There is no 'giving' anymore, it is all about taking.
- It is all about number one, and the self.
- There is no consideration for others, there is no compassion.
- Self-indulgence, decadence and hedonism are the only popular pursuits.
- Game playing, lies, deceits, and dishonesty are the widespread tactics for accomplishment, for achieving success.
- Straightforwardness, honesty, open expressions are alarming trends for simplicity, foolishness, and absurdity.

- Law suits and legal battles are at all-time high.
- Majority of lawyers are most unethical, unprincipled, and constitute the most immoral sectors of the society.
- Over-billing and over-charging are the standards of the day.
- Money seems to be almost ALL that the majority of humanity is occupied with.
- There is constantly war in one or another part of the globe.
- People are starving left and right in certain significant portions of the world.
- There is disease and pestilence everywhere.
- The advent of a new form of energy does not seem to be ever in the horizon.
- Fossil fuel and gas are still the norm.
- There is the evidence of inordinate amount of pollution in the air, water, ground, and even beneath the surface of Earth.
- Mother Earth has begun to express her grievances through increased number of earthquakes, tsunamis, and severe volcanic activities.
- Extreme weather is manifesting itself through severe hurricanes, floods, and tornados.
- Other parts of the world are plagued by punishing draught.
- The extreme weather and tectonic plate shifts are occurring as a result of Mother Earth's aversion and rage to mankind's obnoxious, abusive treatment of her natural resources in the past and present.
- She is earnest and diligent to once for all cleanse and purify herself of the contagion she has been enduring and persevering in recent and foregoing millennia, and in a concerted effort to re-stabilize and revitalize her resources once more.
- She does not have a terminal detestation for humanity but for his (her) ignorance.
- In contrast, she is regenerating and rejuvenating her surface beauty, as well as re-energizing and invigorating her resources in order to, once again, provide shelter and to be a refreshing source for the mankind.
- She is not to be considered as malicious or vindictive as she is with the light and she is compassionate and she is forgiving.

- There will be moments of discomfort, anxiety and even dread or terror while Mother Earth is cleansing and renewing herself. However, these sensations are not everlasting, will not lead into any undue happenings, and shall pass.
- All these disasters, 'natural,' or man-made germinate a seed of curiosity WITHIN, generating a craving desire TO WANT TO KNOW. Of course, those who are tightly fear-based in their 'rationale,' often have an evasive attitude towards all this. They may resort to anger or to denial. They are often saturated by controversy and by ill emotions and sensations of the past, weather in this lifetime or during previous incarnations.
- Whatever the 'type' the person may be classified as, the sensation is there WITHIN. In one case an unpleasant gnawing feeling, in another a sense of welcomed curiosity.
- In all cases it is a DIVERSITY form of awakening. It is all there WITHIN and hidden. It has just not yet manifested itself, and it has various stages of cocooning before it becomes alive and transparent and presents itself to the conscience mind.
- Stage I of awakening: Stage I refers to the incipient moment of awakening. It is the first spark which is actually the 'BIG BANG,' the initial moment of conception for a new reality to set in. Those who are 'old souls' and those who have lived many lifetimes on 3D Earth are usually more self-confident and less prone to FEAR. These individuals as they say 'have a more inquiring mind.' 'They want to know' more. For this reason they do not want to let go of this explosive moment. They do not want to bury it under the rug, so to speak. They are not AFRAID to pursue with this sensation of inquisitiveness they have 'found' or experienced. They feel they are onto something well-meaning, something big. They set out to research more. They feel themselves occupied; not in an unpleasant way; but actually in an enticing manner. They begin to dig more WITHIN, where the actual notion comes from. For some, there follows an intense period of research and of silent reflection.
- It should be elaborated that for some the reaction is completely different. Some try to repudiate this moment of possible new reality creation. Some get terrified by the thought. Some tend to humor themselves by mocking the sensation. Others inherently see a certain enticement to the notion; yet they have been taught from the dawn of their experience in the 3D reality of duality to be cautious. So they retract from it. They do not want to be subject to humiliation or be ridiculed. At this stage both FEAR and EGO are very much in the game. Only 'Old Souls' and highly self-assured, very bold, and 'unique' individuals are at ease at this stage. It should be expounded here that by inference to 'Old Souls' it is considered that these individuals have a high degree of consciousness arising from many lifetimes of positive or RESOLVED experiences. Therefore, the individual does not suffer from KARMA or KARMIC CONSCIOUSNESS syndrome. The former refers to a situation that all or the majority of significant karmic feelings of anger or dismay arising from experiencing injustice and mal-treatments of any kind in this or preceding lifetimes have been cleansed by the individual in question. While KARMIC CONSCIOUSNESS infers a silly EGO-BASED disorder transparent in a great deal of individuals on the present Earth which pertains to a condition that the individual almost invariably refuses to take responsibility for her or his action by always blaming any problem on someone else or to a set of imagined circumstances. Since the individual never takes the initiative to oblige oneself to feel accountable for her or his action, at least to some percentage, the process of clearing can never occur. As a result, the individual NEVER learns to reiterate on his or her action and NEVER benefits from the experience. In turn, excess 'baggage' accumulates from time to time in the present life and during the previous incarnations. It should be noted here that in basically all cases of KARMIC CONSCIOUSNESS, the individual is 100% responsible for the outcomes of his (her) experiences due to the principle of FREE WILL. Even if it is postulated that others have been responsible for one's KARMA by not desecrating one's right of FREE WILL, remains true that it is the same individual who can acknowledge, respect, and exercise her (his) own right of FREE WILL by 'walking away' and not engaging with others or get involved in the very set of particular circumstances.

- Therefore 'OLD SOUL' refers to individuals who are no longer plagued by neither KARMA nor KARMIC CONSCIOUSNESS, regardless of the age or number of reincarnations in the past. The terminology of OLD SOULS simply refers to individuals without 'excess baggage' who do not suffer from 'inferiority complex,' do not have FEAR, and have a great deal of consciousness unlike most others.

- Stage I is the juncture of 'attention' as far as the UNIVERSAL LAW OF ATTRACTION is concerned. It is, indeed, the incipient point of awakening.
- Stage II Awakening: This stage initiates when the revelation of BIG BANG has been well-received and noted. There is a tremendous delight and enticement accompanying its inception. As you research more or more importantly have your moments of silent reflections, you begin to see a sense of familiarity with all this. With regard to your conscience memories in this lifetime, you begin to realize your many INTUITIVE thoughts that you have had in this lifetime which have been contrary to your upbringing and conditioning during this current incarnation. You see, after all, you have not been 'a rebel without cause.' What is interesting is that there has not been any true information or data regarding your recent discoveries that you could literally 'chew' on them and use your present 'analytical' and 'rational' mind to come up with such conclusions. You now wish you had taken your thoughts more seriously and reflected upon them to reach a solid 'belief' regarding the subjects involved. Furthermore, you feel good about yourself, even if confidence and self-respect were not by any means YOUR shortcomings. You feel as special, as you deserve to be. If you are not the expressive type, you wish you had been more bold, spoken out, and began helping others to enlighten them and possibly guide them towards awakening. If you are, indeed, the articulate, expressive type, you wish you had been more motivated and active towards awakening of yourself and others. In any case or scenario at hand, you begin feeling better about yourself.
- Stage II is the phase of self-discovery. It correlates with the condition of 'INTENTION' in the UNIVERSAL LAW OF ATTRACTION. It is the period that having had accepted that a new paradigm could exist for your REALITY, you begin to comprehend that your old reality was an illusion. More specifically, it was a reality that was based upon fear. It is LOVE that now you begin to crave for. And, this LOVE is unlike anything you had perceived before. It is not lust-based. It is not even based on infatuation. It is not needed because you are insecure. It is a very benevolent, secure love that has no root in ego-based self-indulgence. It is the love that bonds all together. It is the unconditional love that is based upon compassion. It is a love that keeps everyone in Oneness. It is a love that has its core in divinity.

- When you are first inspired by it you have a sensation of experiencing something new. It is certainly beyond the 3D paradigm of duality. It is not self-serving. It is grand. It is regal. It fills you with a sense of utter peace. It boosts your feeling of self-worth. It takes you out of the ordinary. It inspires you with an engulfing sense for charity, empathy, and compassion. You are now beginning to resonate with a higher frequency of consciousness. Soaked in a warm, tranquil medium of satisfaction and resolution you want to be different. You desire a different reality. You crave for forward evolution. You yearn for a love-based society, one based upon understanding, cooperation, and utter peace; void of fear, conflict, hatred, abuse, and selfishness. You set your intent to search for such a reality. You are now determined, hopeful, and trusting. The agony of doubt, skepticism, and paranoia begin to take off from your heart and your mind at an astronomical acceleration to oblivion, and begin to disappear. You are now a new person: more sentient, more aware of your surroundings, traversing a lower plane of consciousness into a higher dimension of existence, to an inherent, more comfort zone. You begin to feel you are going HOME, and it is a beautiful sensation.
- Stage III: Having more appreciation for yourself and understanding that you have been living in an illusion based upon falsehood, you feel you are ready to move on. The old paradigm is no longer acceptable. You begin to see through its idiosyncrasies. There are a myriad of ambiguities that now preoccupy your mind. Your old thoughts of controversies now take their firm shapes as beliefs. Your preceding beliefs and opposing notions towards your previous reality start to coalesce to form a solid foundation for something new, a basis for a new reality. You start to feel that you are no longer fragmented as more and more of the opposing thoughts and beliefs you have had about your old paradigm progressively amalgamate to fortify and provide for an even more solid foundation for your beliefs. You have also become increasingly robust in appreciating YOURSELF, determined to find out where you come from, and who you really are. Your interest and intent to learn more has been accentuated. You also trust and respect yourself more, and as a result, you meditate more and spend further time in silent reflection. Consequently, you have established a bond with your HIGHERSELF. You consult more with your HIGHERSELF and include HIM more in your day to day affairs and decision making process. There is more emergence of your SELF and HIGHERSELF with one another. This has accelerated the process of your comprehension about your past and present surroundings through increased premonitions and intuitive feelings. As a result, your awakening has progressed considerably, paving the way for a higher conscious state of being. Now you resonate with a higher frequency which escalates each and every day.

- You also feel certain symptoms of this increased consciousness. You get headaches; there is evidence of swelling in your tongue and throat; you start to get more and more body aches, there is sign of ringing in your ears; etc.
- Stage III initiates with 'ALLOWANCE.' You are now accepting to cross over to a different reality; one based upon divine unconditional love. You continue without FEAR, or if initially plagued by FEAR, it begins to subside. You progressively begin to LOVE yourself. Again, this is UNCONDITIONAL LOVE originating from the Almighty. It is not EGO-based whatsoever. By now you have come to appreciate that the fundamental shortcomings of your previous reality, namely: (1) It is fear-based. You have continuous concern for SURVIVAL. You live in a chaotic environment which, in truth, operates on the basis of LAW OF JUNGLE. That is, 'the SURVIVAL of the fittest.' This fundamental ideology was imposed upon you through validation of Darwin's Theory. You were compelled to COMPETE to be that 'fittest.' Your surroundings were riddled with examples of injustice, and by transparent models of rich and poor, strong and weak, prosperous and struggling, and happy and miserable. Although these are all illustrations of the paradigm of duality, the examples are extreme and artificially manipulated as a result of Mankind's slavery. We have all come here to have a taste of duality. We have all subjected ourselves to deceit and to dark energies of all kind to enhance our understanding of the universe, and in particular, the interplay of Light and Dark. However, the nature of such extreme fear-based paradigm has been beyond the scope of our chosen curriculum. The pronounced difference is that life under the condition of duality still preserves the right of FREE WILL. In this respect, the experience of duality is confined to making sound decisions as to neutralize the effect of dark, and the interplay of dark and light within the norm of equality. With slavery added to the equation, the right of FREE WILL is totally desecrated.

- With additional constrictions of misinformation, subliminal propaganda, secrecy, and other power-induced dictatorship, the balance is highly toppled in favor of evil.
- (2) The old paradigm was heavily EGO-based. The frequent emergence of EGO as an essential component of survival meant that the natural balance in the symbiotic relation between SELF and EGO was biased in favor of EGO. Initially, EGO was simply allowed as a parameter in the equation of existence within the context of Creation, to alert the SELF and safeguard SELF against abuse, injustice, and to effect survival. In essence, this aspect of the old reality was a corollary to the fear-based aspect of the old paradigm. Fear creates chaos and necessitates concern for survival. On the other hand, alarm for survival generates fear. It is all a vicious circle. At this stage of awakening you will appreciate that the role of EGO as the primary protector of humanity's rights of sovereignty and survival against outside harm is grossly exaggerated. You come to comprehend that the outer conditions are not necessarily perilous, especially when you consider substituting fear with love. In other words, you find love dissolves fear, anxiety, anger, safeguarding against conflict. Furthermore, you come to see that EGO is not necessarily an ally for the SELF. You realize that it has its own agenda, and it goes far beyond fulfilling its task as a defender of man's moralities. You recognize that, in reality, EGO's approach is one of offensive position. It motivates misunderstanding, provokes argument, and incites conflict. It actually complicates simple encounters of confusion and miscomprehension through introduction of antagonistic posture, selfish guardedness, and belligerence. It disarms SELF from taking the alternative stand of 'giving' or compassion by encouraging defensiveness. It exposes SELF with the repugnant image of arrogance and pomposity, rousing engagement and enflaming a fight. If you have not done so yet, you come to the realization that it is of primary importance to be strong, confident, and courageous, and to keep EGO completely under the leash of obedience not to let it interfere with your social interactions with others, and to make it adhere to its purpose which is alerting you to any possible external exposure to exploitation, mistreatment, and cruelty. You must leave the strategy of the remedy and discipline solely to the SELF under possible advisement from the HIGHERSELF and without any interjections from EGO.

- Stage IV: This is the beginning of the end to the process of awakening. By now if you have had any remaining fear or doubt they have all fully receded. The old fear-based and ego-based paradigm no longer makes any sense to you. You are determined to seek an alternative way of life. The promise of ascension becomes particularly attractive and you are determined to pursue it. You see the world fully from the point of view of compassion, unconditional love and Oneness. You are one with yourself and the creator and you are looking forward to a new life based upon full cooperation, and sharing. Competition seems absurd to you. You totally abhor jealousy or envy. You are very confident of yourself and have a deep respect and appreciation for yourself. You feel you are clear from any karma in this life or your past incarnations. You take full responsibility for all your actions and the idea of karmic consciousness is alien to you. You are cleansed of all dark energies and have an aversion for all that appears contrary to your divine conscience as perceived by your HIGHERSELF. You feel joyful and you love yourself. At the same time you feel humble and you have an urge to help others. Your anger towards the fellow human beings has ebbed. You look towards the fellow man who has always made you dismayed and distressed for adopting greed, distrust, apathy, selfishness, defensiveness, even paranoia as a way of life with empathy and wish to help him (her) with a new reality based upon love, warmth, security, tranquility, one that leads to prosperity and inventiveness. You feel very tolerant and forgiving towards man's transgressions. You rather be void of any judgments and instead commit yourself to counsel and assist if you are permitted.

- At the same time you feel deeply in peace with yourself. You understand your past, within your present incarnations, very well. You comprehend that what you had done were very much in concert with your inner wisdom, plans, and desires. Any doubts or regrets totally vanish from your physical mind. You know what you did was according to your desire for incarnation on Earth. Conversely, what you let go of, even if it seemed contrary to the perceived paradigm of the day, were for good reasons which comply very well with the correct truth and consistent with your new and refined reality. You feel totally resolved. You look back at your present experiences in this carnation and you are happy with your accomplishments and you forgive and absolve all those who harm or cheated you. You wish to meditate more, to commune and pray with your Creator father more, and to also ask that if you inadvertently hurt anyone for any reason that they would pardon you for yours and their sakes.
- So, although you feel great about yourself and you are looking forward to a future new life with others based upon better and higher levels of consciousness, compassion, and love. Now you realize that you need to exercise more patience, and indeed this is in concert with your new natural frequency of vibration, your new resonance. You are undoubtedly now resonate at much higher frequencies which although more self-satisfying, however, you feel you are getting more and more out of phase and synchronicity with your surroundings.
- Fortunately, the divine energies of light and love are pouring down on Earth. By now you have made your commune with God and have committed yourself to his heavenly hands by opening your heart chakra to receive these blessed energies. And, indeed, they are coming every single day. However, you find yourself in a rollercoaster ride every day. As you go out, to nature or a serene park and meditate and walk among the flora and fauna and landscape of the countryside you feel there is a surge of energy rush within you. As you come home and sit in retreat of your day you begin to absorb these energies. With further reflection the energies are anchored within you and you share this anchoring with Gaia with appropriate meditation. As a result, you clear yourself of the old energies and replaced them with the new. You are, once, again, tranquil and at peace. You feel you are charged up once again, and no matter what time it is in the evening or at night you feel energetic to do a lot more. The concept of time progressively fades out within your biological system. You begin to feel that you are moving to a higher plane of existence in which time is perpetual. You feel you are swimming in an ocean of infinite time where there is no past, present, and future. You are geared only to the phenomenon of accomplishment as you set out to schedule one task after another. The concept of time is now only conceivable to you through the progression of the tasks you have at hand with the initiation of one assignment as the bookmark for calibrating time and the successful completion of the said mission and possibly starting of another as hallmark for the end of your standardization of time. You measure time by triumphant conclusion of one task after another. Make note that the aforementioned 'task,' may not only be a 'serious' chore; and may be anything that fancies your pleasure.

- As your consciousness grows, eventually, there will be a need for a new body, one that is akin to higher frequencies of vibration. Recall, that you are not the only entity that is ascending. In fact, it is Mother Earth that is transforming and cleansing and evolving to a more pristine condition in order to provide you with a pleasant environment for, another Eden if you will, to shelter you and afford nourishments for you. Strictly speaking, each one of us is a component in the overall constituents or the organs that make up the physical body of Gaia. In order to be harmonious with the new vibration frequency of Mother Earth we will require a different body to be able to resonate in synchronicity in the new 5th dimensional Earth. This will be a 'light' body. The term light refers to as 'less dense' as well as higher frequency 'light' energetic. Do not forget that we will be a being of 'light' then. Furthermore, the nature of the new energy grids on Earth and its connection with respect to cosmos is such we will be able to go or communicate with any dimensions with the 12 possible planes of existence within our multiverse. Therefore, the designation of the 5th dimension is not to insinuate any restriction with regards to the freedom to access or move within our multiverse. A 5th dimension being simply resides on the 5th plane and his (her) level of consciousness refers to the lowest and the starting locus within this vast continuum. As you evolve further you simply move to lighter and lighter positions within the continuum. Your body becomes progressively less dense and you become more and more ethereal. Beyond the 7th dimension there is no need to have a physical body to encase your soul. So become self-sufficient. Of course, this does not mean that you no longer have access to the physical world. On the contrary, you can go to any level within the physical planes of life. You can always go down to lower frequencies but not reside in the higher planes requiring higher state of consciousness and compatible frequencies to resonate with. We are, however, exception to the rule. Due to our 12 strands of DNA we were initially designed to become a 12 dimensional being. Appropriately, we can move and work anywhere within the confines of 'HEAVEN.' Again, the Earthlings are considered as very special, shadows of God, Creators, and the crown jewels of God's Creation. We are the only entities who have ever ascended in masses. We are the very first being that is heralding the reversal of expansion to contraction in our universe. We all very special. God ordained the creation of Eden for us to live in. Plants, vegetation, flowers, and wildlife were brought from all over the multiverse to seed our beautiful blue planet. Our genes were selected from the best 22 human genes in the multiverse. We are the only beings who are blessed with the existence of Christ Consciousness, which means the best and most perfect physicality. Our highly revered sacred mission is to understand the interplay of good and evil and it seems that the collective of our oversoul has succeeded. As a result, we are all graduating. We are all going home, wherever it might be within the 5th-12th precincts of HEAVEN. All we have to do is to main a high enough frequency to cross over. Some of us have been badly hit with the enslavement imposed upon us by hybrid descendants of Annunaki and direct interference of the evil hordes of Dark energy. However, bondage was not part of the deal. Besides, only a very small portion of humanity, of which mostly are half breed reptilian Illuminati, have crossed over to the dark. In fact, some are of the light and are brave enough to traverse to the dark to learn and experience their ways, which will undoubtedly prove to be of great value to the light.

- All is well. The divine light energies are pouring in from our benevolent Father. Additionally, we have the fortune of the dispatch of a large number of our brothers and sisters to our aid who not only beaming their own lights to us; but are extremely helpful in dealing with the ever-greedy, persistent Illuminati. They have captured and disarmed their bases. They have neutralized the last of their starfighters. They constantly defending us against harmful dispersion of chemtrails. They are fighting with and neutralizing their HARRP weaponry which is responsible to induce 'natural disasters' such as earthquakes, tsunamis, volcanic eruptions, hurricanes, and other geological and severe weather scenarios.

- At this stage in the game (Stage IV) you learn to practice perseverance, and most importantly abstain from FEAR. Furthermore, you appreciate the necessity of maintaining your natural frequency at high level and cope with the bothersome symptoms of ascension syndrome.
- Pertinent to this stage of ascension are the phenomenon of auric bleeding and body recalibration. These topics will be covered in their entirety elsewhere. Suffice it to say here that auric bleeding refers to the condition of overstress and loss of energy due to, ironically enough, the incoming energies of ascension on the planet. These energies change the genetics of body as there will be a shift from dense amorphous carbon-based electromagnetic body to that of crysto-electric light body. These topics will be covered separately.