

Who are The Greys?

- The ZETA Reticuli aliens are commonly referred to as “the Greys.”
- These aliens are a bipedal specie resembling humans with long arms, big head, large almond-shaped eyes, with small slits for ears, with tiny openings for nose and a similar small opening which hardly quailed for a mouth.
- They come with a variety of skin tones and colors varying from grey [thus the name] to blue to orange.
- These aliens are observed to have no digestive system with a diet of liquid nutrient that include blood and soft tissues of other Beings that is prepared in much like a milk shake.
- Not surprisingly, they also do not have an excretory system, and therefore, they defecate through their perspiration glands via their skins.
- For this reason, there is often a very foul stench associated with their presence which is detectable within large distances from them.
- There are at least two major groups of such aliens: the very short [less than 4 Ft] sentient kind to very tall [of the order of 8 Ft] that are believed to be sophisticated biological androids that do not possess souls.
- The latter are employed in the service of former which act as genetics technicians as well as soldiers or body guards.

- Although there are sentient Grey, Zeta Reticuli, who are benevolent and live in the Light, the majority of the Greys are oppressed Beings subjugated to the Draconians of the Orion, and are therefore, Dark and malevolent.
- The Greys have been visiting for eons.
- An evidence of their visit and work on Earth precludes the 1700s A.D. due to the imposition of their genetic implants on us as to restrict our multidimensionality in order to be confined on Earth permanently.
- Much more recent date of their visiting Earth include Hitler's WW II in Germany, in which their scout ship crashed in the Black Forest, and later on the United States, when their scout ships were shot down via a scalar-type weaponry culminating in their crashing in the well-known and documented Roswell, New Mexico in 1947.
- The Roswell incident is thought to have recovered bodies of 4 Grey aliens, one which remained alive for a short few weeks.
- Later on, additional scout ships were shot down and crashed in which bodies of several Greys as well genetic and physical parts of human bodies were recovered.
- Greys are the quintessential "aliens" popularized (or dreaded) by our contemporary humans who have been responsible for abducting, mutilating, massacring several hundred thousand of human beings, mostly children, pregnant mothers, and other females or males since mid-1950.
- It is now well-documented and out in the open public's knowledge that President Eisenhower met with these aliens in 1954 which lead to a mutual treaty with them.
- According to this agreement the Zeta Reticuli would agree to provide the Government of U.S. (more specifically the Dark Cabal) with advanced knowledge of weaponry as well as cooperate with them to build advanced space ships, scout ships, etc.

- In return, the government of United States agreed to have the Greys abduct a certain number of humans as well as animals for the purpose of Genetic Engineering Research.
- The following stipulations were added to the contract regarding such abductions:
 - (1) The abductions will be limited to a certain numbers monthly or annually.
 - (2) The abductees are to be returned to the same locations as initially taken.
 - (3) The abductees are not to be harmed in any way and the experimentations should be from an observational nature only.
 - (4) The abductees were to be sedated heavily as to not experience any pain.
 - (5) Upon their return, the abductees must not have any recollection of their kidnapping. Mind control and memory eraser techniques were to be employed.
 - (6) There should not be any implants in the abductees upon their returns.
 - (7) There should not be any marks, bruises, incision marks on the captured victims upon their returns.
- After the execution of this agreement containing the aforementioned stipulations news of abductions started to emerge all over the United States.
- Most victims recalled the same symptoms and memories relived under deep hypnosis which included:
 - (1) Experiencing loss of time for which the sufferers could not remember anything.

- (2) Memories of bright lights.
- (3) Recollections of being in a room and on the bed; Being strapped down on the bed and remembrances of a robotic arm or such approaching their eyes with a large sharp needle.
- (4) Memories of seeing short beings with long arms with great big almond shaped eyes being present in the room.
- (5) Recollecting foul stench associated with such beings.
- Concerning the consistency of such experiences it was obvious that the aliens were not keeping up with their end of the bargain as far as the treatment of abductees were involved.
- What is more, the apparent sheer number of kidnappings which were being reported was much higher than those agreed and envisaged.
- The government of United States called for a meeting with the Greys to instigate changes or to eradicate the agreement.
- Upon meeting with the Greys they indicated that their race was terminally impaired by their captors, the Draconians, and they did not have any hope for the continuation of their race due to the relatively small number of their beings remaining in the Universe.
- They indicated there are only approximately 2000 of them left in the Universe, and as a result of their “weak” gene pool existing due to their repetitive cloning, most likely their race will render extinct in the near future.
- In elaborating about their present condition of existence, they added that their people were captured by the Draconians while they were traversing the Orion system; their females were mostly killed by the Draconians and a few were left for carnal satisfactions of the Draconian males while others were used in genetic experimentations.

- As a result, they eventually became androgynous and they could not procreate any longer.
- They had to resort to cloning to continue on; and now their gene pool has been severely depleted.
- They indicated this is why they need to learn about our superior genetics to try to mend their genome in order to somewhat revert back to their initial status quo.
- The Greys, who are subjugated by the Draconians, initially had approached us to do genetic research for their superiors.
- They were apparently very worried and anxious that the news of their dealings, the scope of their abductions, do not reach the Draconians as they are very fearful of their masters, dreading retribution from them.
- Furthermore, they promised to adhere to the terms of their agreement regarding the victims of abduction, and beseeched the United States Government not to abandon them to face their fate; and in return, they promised additional technologies and warfare and military gen.
- Needless to say that, once again, they deceived their crime partners.
- Their heinous activities continued without any apparent restrictions or supervisions from the U.S. government until mid-1990, when the Galactic Federation finally banished them from Earth and indeed our Solar System.
- It is the author's belief that the government of United States, impervious to the divine right of Free Will, and without any concerns for its citizens, and because of being a puppet of the ungodly the Dark Cabal, 'looked the other way' while being drunk with power, giddied with 'New Toys' from the Greys-Draconians.
- In the first place, no man or any other entity has the power to interfere with one's gift of free will bestowed by the Prime Creator of Heaven, our Father. It was not within the authority or control of these politicians (the Dark Cabal or not) to agree upon abductions of these poor American citizens.

- Several hundred thousand poor humans either suffered beyond measure or were mutilated and died during this atrocious period; and the latter group was the luckier ones. Others are still suffering intensely emotionally and psychologically.
- It is estimated that today there are at least 183,000 hybrid Greys living, and this is only what was discovered and documented to be living in the government underground bases in the last 2 decades.
- The chances are there are many many more.
- It was reported that there were at least 100,000 children missing from the northeast of United States during the latter years of Grey's abductions.
- This is not to mention the numerous counts of pregnant women and others.
- The hybrid Greys now live among us; undistinguishable from other human beings.
- The Greys initially made different types of hybrids; one type look like half breeds; the other look exactly like humans, very difficult to be distinguished from other humans.
- The Greys planned to retain most of the 'intellectual' characteristics of themselves while including the other genetic traits of the human beings in the hybrids.
- For example, Greys are androgynous and cannot reproduce; also they no longer have a digestive system and they can only east fluids; furthermore, they do not have an excretory or defecating system.

- Those who have been in contact with Greys in the military or otherwise indicate that the Greys defecate through their perspiration glands by sweating.
- It is no surprise that they have a hideous smell associated with them; and the main cause “they did not feel confident or willing” to appear before humans prior to sanitary preparation first.
