

20th Century Accelerated Technologies:

Coincidence or Purposeful Strategy

Mohsen Paul Sarfarazi, Ph.D.

October 22, 2012

Introduction

- The author has been gravely puzzled by the very fact that mankind's state of technologies has progressed so drastically in the 20th century for decades, spanning over three quarters of his up-to-date life span.
- And, it is certain that he is not the only one.
- If we compare the state of relative advancement in technologies between the 20th century and almost the entire remaining centuries before that, the 20th century progress in science and technologies seems to be exponential in mathematical term, and undoubtedly astronomical when compared to previous centuries where progress was either stagnant or at best linear.
- And, nothing occurs in cosmos by accident.
- It is all pre-ordained and follows a crystal clear and regular pattern.
- In fact, it is proposed here that a strategy has been purposefully adopted by the divine hierarchy in the recent decades, spanning almost three centuries, in order to provide a means for mankind to be able to grasp the seemingly complex and bewildering concepts and phenomena at hand regarding the origin of its existence, the meaning of 'life,' and the philosophies behind which it operates.
- And, this strategy is to provide mankind with carefully designed technologies that would provide crystal clear illustrations and parallels for otherwise highly complex phenomena that would need to be explained to humanity prior to its ascension in 2012 and beyond.

- This urgency germinates from the fact that mankind's consciousness has not sufficiently progressed so a smooth transition from 3rd to 5th dimensional reality could be readily achieved.
- Mental and emotional bondage by a way of misinformation, disinformation, false propagation of futile ideologies, downright to subliminal messaging, mind control, even chemical poisoning of our divine physiognomy all culminating in proliferation of fear for 'survival,' have proven to be potent and effective strategies for inhibition of mankind's normal progress in consciousness.
- And, needless to say that humanity has been deprived from 'normal' development, leading to a need for a strong 'shot in the arm' enabling the mankind to 'catch up' and join the normal progress in the cosmic sense.
- While duality has been great teacher, adulterated interference in the form of emotional and mental [as well as physical] slavery has been the inhibitor of natural progress for mankind.
- Of course, as it has been elaborated elsewhere, timelines and periods within which various realities take form are not continuous in terms of one being the sequential follow up to another.
- Complete sagas of human civilizations have abruptly ended or appeared in reality without any explanation or continuity.
- And, the most prolific example of this is the sudden appearance and disappearance of the Mayan Civilization from the record books of mankind's history on Earth.
- And, of course the seeming artificial advancement in science and technology of the 20th century inspires the thought that analogous to the case of Mayan Civilization, the whole affair was just written and was 'programmed' and included in artificially, and purposefully.
- The very approachment of the end of this cycle, start of a new one, and ascension, testifies to the need for fast progress and the validity of the aforementioned hypothesis.
- The interference of the Annunaki and the Dark Cabal in achieving "normal" progress has been the very culprit for mankind's 'failure' to reach its goal in a more timely fashion so such 'artificial' programming would have not been needed.

- Another illustrative example is the distinct connection or similarity of certain events in the history of mankind on Earth such as the Sons of Belial of the Island of Aryans and the demise of Atlantis, and the appearance of Hitler/Himmler initiating the World War II of this century.
- Although these two events appear to be disconnected, one event actually represents the continuation of another.
- We now know through Lord Metatron, the exalted Lord of Light, and the second in command in the hierarchy and chain of command in operation of our Nebadon Universe, that Hitler and Himmler are, indeed, the very same sons of Belial that reincarnated back on Earth to continue with their narcissistic and deranged illusion of their grandeur and supremacy.
- This initially led to the utter destruction of the once supreme Atlantean Civilization, and later on Earth in the 20th century through the rise of SS and the Third Reich.
- Lord Metatron also tells us that Spanish Inquisition was the very same continuation of the Crusades.
- The truth of the matter is that any saga [or manuscript] of any epochs may be inserted into the timelines at any point in 'time' much in the same manner as a subroutine may be written and added to the list of subroutines as an executable [.exe] command of a software for the operation system [DOS] of a computer and included in its 'config.sys' and the 'autobatch file.'

Purposeful Technologies of the 20th Century

Computers

- Indeed, computers are the very best innovation of the 20th century.
- It is proposed here that the advent of computers is not to be attributed to the ingenuity of the mankind whatsoever.
- Rather, it was a purposeful revelation gifted to us through the directive of our divine hierarchy by the higher conscious galactic friends, who claim to be our ascended ancestors and the forefathers of humanity.

- And, indeed computers exemplify the very nature of our existence.
- We know now that we are all biological computers that our physiognomy operates through binary-like codes indigenous to light, which are much like the binary digital codes [0, 1] of the electrical circuit that are responsible for communication and operation of the electronic computers.
- Similarly, our brain is the storehouse of information recorded and saved within it, much the same way as the hard drive is to computers.
- And, our brain as an instrument of our conscious mind is erroneously utilized as the command center for the operation of our bodies much the same way as the CPU chip is to digital computers.
- Every communication among our various organs, endocronic gland systems, and indeed, our individual biological cells, and even at the DNA/RNA level are carried out through codes indigenous to light.
- This encoded aspect of light represents the ‘language of light’ which can communicate with the pre-programmed vernacular of our physiognomy and genetic system.
- In this analogy, such biophysical language is similar to the ‘machine language’ [the binary codes] which is interfaced and communicated with to run its course through the language of light, which is none other than the software language the various routines and subroutines are written with and are readily interpreted to operate the entire system.
- We now know that we are, in fact, much closer to computers in essence, as we are to be evolved from amorphous carbon-based to crystalline silicon-based Beings in the 5th dimension.
- Silicon crystals are much more precise in operation, as their structure is highly regulated and repeatable at their crystalline level, as opposed to amorphous carbon whose structure is chaotic and more easily damageable.
- This is why silicon chip was adopted for the internal construction of the motherboard and CPU which offers much more storage space, as well as Crystallinity and precision in calculation or operation.
- And, rest assured. Nothing was accidental.

- Mankind was made apprised of such technology in order to be 'groomed' and ready to comprehend and have a first-hand experience regarding the concepts involved in such matters, and indeed, their operation, which is the very crux of our own existence.
- Mankind was not provided with this knowledge to be able to build space ships or weapons to travel the cosmos and conquer and subjugate other Beings for its own Self-indulgence.
- He/she was given the knowledge to simply appreciate the concepts and principles involved with regard to such technologies.
- We now know that traversing the space by purposefully designed space ships is actually the crudest way for space travel.
- The next step is to try to comprehend the true nature of 'Innerspace' and its principles of operation.
- Teleportation, constituting 'instant' travel, does not utilize space ships.
- The same is true regarding bi-location, remote viewing and such.
- They all utilize 'innerspace'.

Animation, Photography, Movies, Radio and Television

- Another important breakthrough towards understanding 'life' better is the advent of movie making and television.
- It all started in late 19th century when mankind was purposefully steered towards the phenomenon of 'animation.'
- A series of still pictures or drawings were constructed, each slightly different than the other in term of illusion of dynamic posture and the corresponding sequence in time, depicting motion.
- When the pictures were advanced in the line of sight, it appeared as if the character is moving and performing a task.
- The larger the number of pictures created and the faster the entire sequence was run, the more realistic or live-like the entire episode seemed to portray.
- Then there came photography, in which the real picture of a live person could be captured on a film.

- Now if one would run a collection of many such pictures arranged in sequence as to depict time and motion, 'live action animation' would result.
- The next step was 'movies' in which as photography was being done, the operator would mechanically move a wheel that would advance the progression of the film, thus recording a succession of pictures at regular interval of time as the person or object would actually move in the 'scene.'
- The advent of this form of videography gave rise to production of movies.
- With each advancement of the technology of movie making, the concept of animation, and movement of pictures as to depict motion or 'life' was well-understood.
- Although these understandings were pre-requisite to comprehension of Self, consciousness, and 'life,' no one made the connection, and mankind became mesmerized by the entertainment aspect of such applied technology.
- The seed was planted, the idea was germinated in the mind of humanity, and entertainment would only add to enthusiasm and its further adoption as a pass time.
- Now sagas of 'life' at different epochs could be created and portrayed on the screen, and people would closely relate to such story lines, perhaps recall the roles they once played and the events they experienced that resembled the very same thing being exhibited on the screen.
- With the addition of sound to animation or movies, the whole experience became much more real, enjoyable, one that a person could more closely associate with.
- And, the frenzy began.
- Movie going became the usual way of pass time, catering to the very 'need' for mankind to get emotionally involved, fantasizing, identifying, and perhaps remembering one's own adventures subconsciously.
- The movie going experience became so common and regular, with each decade passing significantly improving the technical quality, adding to the energetic of the practice.
- And, then there came the advent of television.
- Now, similar indulgences could be made in the very comfort of your own.

- So, with the arrival of movies the point was very well made by the higher consciousness in educating us and preparing us for the comprehension of the phenomenon of life, existence, and consciousness.
- It seemed like we now had the very equipment by which to envision the truth of our very own existence; how we came to be, and why we are here indeed.
- However, still understanding of certain concepts such as 'parallel realities,' 'time travel,' 'teleportation,' etc. would be very complicated; one that mankind still has grave difficulties with.
- Although some of such complexities are ego-based or are associated with mankind's too much submergence into deep ocean of duality and physicality culminating in lack of remembrance of the very essence of our Selves, still comprehension of such cumbersome concepts requires further raising of man's consciousness in order to be able to effectively digest such principles.
- The adding of the technology of television to the recipe facilitates running of multiple timelines [channels] on the screen [the Omni Earth] and the visualization of the concepts of parallel or alternate realities and the very essence of Omni Earth, and Omniverse.
- The fact is that all realities exist independently and simultaneously within the NOW moment [present time].
- All programs run simultaneously whether we understand the concept or not!
- Interestingly enough, even the designation of vibration frequency as a means of differentiating various timeline or realities [e.g., tuning to different radio or TV channels] is identical to the dawn of electronics and electrical signal processing.
- Also, identical is the parallel nature of attunement to dimensions of higher consciousness, or God, with the tuning principle of finding a new or alternative TV channel or radio station.
- Enlightenedly, clarity of a TV or radio signal entails lack of chatter, which is analogous to turning off the active conscious mind during meditation in an attempt to 'connect' with higher Selves or planes of consciousness.

Summary, Conclusions, and Lessons Learned

What humanity needs to remember is that:

1. Strictly speaking, we are not physical Beings.
2. We are here as visitors playing the purposeful game of duality in order to gain further consciousness.
3. Attachment to physical things, materialism, wealth, carnal indulgence, etc., is futile.
4. We are immortal Being, having a perpetual existence that goes on and on.
5. In order to prosper, we only need to raise our consciousness.
6. This is the purposeful 'Divine Plan' bestowed upon us by the very ALL MIGHTY Prime Creator.
7. Increased consciousness opens new and interesting doors for discovery and exploration and leads to prosperity and further refinement in 'existence,' and enjoying 'life.'
8. Carpe Diem. 'Seize the Day.'
9. There is no moments to lose, no 'time' to waste.
10. Upon ascension to higher grounds [dimensions] the concept of 'boredom' dissolves and vanishes without a trace.
11. Deliberation and pondering inspired by indecision or boredom is a futile, negative, low-chakra trait in physicality that long has served its purpose in duality.
12. Again, 'Carpe Diem.'
13. Concentrate on spirituality, and Self-reflection, so you can find and appreciate [your] divinity, and begin embarking on the Fantastic journey of ascension.
14. You have not seen anything yet.
15. You have been agonizing in a campus 'off world,' being isolated to pay attention to your curriculum, attending the 'school of Hard Knock.'
16. The graduation is approaching, and you have been given a 'pass,' and decidedly, better than that if you remain focused, attentive, and attuned, you will graduate with honors.
17. Dismiss the 'past' as it really did not exist ever!

- 18. You have been in the perpetual NOW, playing the 'game' of duality, strategizing, experimenting, receiving hints and guidance [when you allowed it by staying connected subconsciously], learning lessons, becoming better and better, raising your consciousness.
- 19. It is time to GO HOME, sharing the experiences and the knowledge you have gained, BE at ONE with your Self, your entirety, your Soul or Oversoul, and move on to Higher and Higher grounds!
- 20. Shed all the bad habits, all the low-chakra traits, fear, competition, jealousy, greed, false pride, prejudice, anger, revenge, violence, etc.
- 21. These were all purposeful instructors; they made you think, they made you feel, they made to practice and draw conclusions.
- 22. They taught you to 'integrate,' 'stay in the middle.'
- 23. The only energy worthy of polarization is 'Compassion,' and 'Unconditional Love.'
- 24. This is the very unique gift of ALL MIGHTY to us; namely, the Gene of Compassion.
- 25. Pray, Self-reflect, meditate, go within, work with the Angelics, Deity, Ascended Masters, anyone else you resonate with, and activate your Gene of Compassion.
- 26. Keep it in great shape; ensure its constant Crystallinity until you ascend.
- 27. Thereafter, cherish its divinity, and carry it with your new Self; keep it fully activated.
- 28. It is the only one you need in the future; it is the only one that will consistently help you.
- 29. All others are now 'Old Energies.' They are so 'three dimension.'
- 30. Dismiss all low energies.
- 31. Clear and cleanse all the damage they have done.
- 32. Pave a clear way for your Self to continue on to the Higher Planes.
- 33. It is time to move on.
- 34. You have by now learned the beauty of collectiveness; you have embarked on a journey to meet and integrate or meld with all your Selves.
- 35. You are heading on to join your Higher Self, your Soul.

- 36. You are looking forward to unifying your vibration frequency, gaining back your Soul Identity.
- 37. The Hologram has improved; although you started at one status, now all graduates are returning, the new hologram will encompass the ALL.
- 38. Now that you appreciate the advantage of Oneness, you should realize that you can extend the practice of Oneness, and join the 'Collective' who are all resonating with YOUR state of consciousness.
- 39. And Unconditional Love is the glue that bonds you ALL together.
- 40. Although these souls originate from different Oversouls, distinct from yours, they are willing and ready to share all their experiences, all their knowledge, all their perpetual findings with you.
- 41. At the same time, they have no intention on infringing on your privacy as well as your individuality.
- 42. Just imagine, you with the cumulative consciousness of all who resonate with you.
- 43. Together, you are all a 'cooperative' instituted on the doctrine of Unconditional Love and Compassion, all interconnected to a neural network of consciousness, interacting with one another through telepathy, while at the same time each maintaining one's own sovereignty.
- 44. The unconditional love triggered by your genes of compassion compels you to subscribe to the principle of 'good for the ALL [the collective],' and the collective solidarity and respect for the doctrine of protecting the collective ensures safety and longevity.
- 45. There is not a trace of completion, concern for piracy, or any mischief.
- 46. Each and every one becomes the collective as far as expanded consciousness is concerned, and no one ventures to defy self-security and prosperity.
- 47. The single accompanying requirement, a requisite of 'Divine Plan' to ensure increased consciousness is 'Service to Others.'
- 48. And, this is, indeed, accomplished through activation of our Gene of Compassion in order to effectively utilize 'the Science of Unconditional Love.'

- 49. To summarize: 'Life,' 'Existence,' gravitates toward two independent guidelines: (a) Principle of Raising Consciousness, and; (b) Policy of Service to Others.
- 50. When done properly, it culminates in prosperity, joyfulness, tranquility, perpetuity, and dynamism.
- 51. When executed indecorously, it leads to failure, stagnation, futile repetition, as well as frustration, unhappiness, and discomfort.
